

UC DAVIS SCHOOL OF LAW 2020 - 2021 FACULTY

UC Davis School of Law is proud of its groundbreaking “majority-minority” faculty, ranked No. 23 in the nation in scholarly impact. The law school’s modest size and community feel allow for greater interaction among students and faculty than at other top-tier law schools.

UC Davis Law welcomes new faculty for the 2020-21 academic year.

Professor Fish currently works as a federal defender in San Diego. He holds a Ph.D. and J.D. from Yale Law School. His primary research interests are in criminal law, criminal procedure, immigration law, evidence, and professional responsibility.

Professor Rogers is a co-fellow between Stanford’s Center for Law and the Biosciences and Program in Neuroscience and Society. Her scholarship centers on legal and bioethical issues related to property, torts and legal history. She holds a J.D. from Yale Law School. She received an M. Phil and is a candidate for a Ph.D. in the History and Philosophy of Science from Cambridge University.

Jennifer Elowsky has joined the Legal Research and Writing Program, after teaching LRW classes at Golden Gate University School of Law. She is a partner at Wolkin Curran, LLP in San Francisco.

Robert Mullaney ’84 is UC Davis Law’s new Aoki Water Justice Clinic director. Mullaney held senior positions at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and Department of Justice and served as a staff attorney and professor at Golden Gate University School of Law’s Environmental Law and Justice Clinic.
