Arnold & Porter LLP Veterans and Affiliates to Class of 2018

We hope that you will consider being a part of our 2017 summer program in our Denver, Houston, Los Angeles, New York, San Francisco, or Washington office. Please feel free to visit our careers page to learn more about our firm and our attorneys.

An increasing number of individuals entering today's professional workforce bring with them a unique set of skills developed while serving in our Armed Forces. Arnold & Porter LLP highly values these individuals. As fellow veterans who have made the transition from military service to the legal profession, we would like to share why Arnold & Porter seeks someone with your abilities, and invite you to consider us among your many employment options for next summer and beyond.

- Arnold & Porter values the knowledge, skills, and characteristics veterans bring to their legal careers. Veterans have a practiced ability to communicate clearly and concisely, organize and manage complex and often competing tasks, and work efficiently and effectively in a diverse organization. Additionally, veterans have unmatched leadership experience and character that reflect teamwork, dedication, professionalism, and ethics. At Arnold & Porter, these skills are in demand on a daily basis.
- Arnold & Porter has a long and active tradition of providing pro bono legal services in support of veterans, including a significant U.S. Supreme Court victory, in March 2011, when the Supreme Court ruled unanimously for the Firm's client, David Henderson, a Korean war veteran who missed the deadline for filing an appeal while hospitalized for his disability, in Henderson v. Shinseki. Also, Arnold & Porter attorneys secured the pardon for Lt. Henry Ossian Flipper, the first African American graduate of West Point.
- Arnold & Porter provides new associates with ample opportunity to develop their talents and assume meaningful responsibility in a wide variety of practice areas and legal matters. From its pro bono work to its litigation, regulatory, and transactional practices, Arnold & Porter is keen on leveraging the skills of its veterans in meaningful and mutually beneficial ways.
- The firm actively supports the self-formed affinity group for veterans called Arnold & Porter Veterans & Affiliates or APVA. APVA was founded in 2014 and it consists of individuals with and without military experience who desire to participate in recruiting and outreach programs, pro bono work, and internal support networks focused on improving support for military veterans both internally and externally.
