SCBA Diversity Fellowship Program Info Session

Please join Career Services and last year's SCBA fellows for an informational session about the 2017 SCBA Diversity Fellowship Program.

The program is on Thursday, November 17th, 12-1, in Room 1301.

Panelists will share their experiences about the application process, interview, what it was like working for their firms and what they learned as an SCBA Fellow.

This session will NOT be recorded. Bring your questions for the panelists. Also, if you have questions about the application, please make an appointment with the Career Services Office. We are happy to review application materials that you prepare over the winter break and will be able to provide detailed feedback for those that come in earlier over the break. In order to guarantee a thorough review of your application, please provide your application materials for review by January 9, 2017.

We hope you will attend.

Upcoming On-Campus Interviewing (OCI) & Resume Collection Opportunities

Spring OCI season is right around the corner! Scores of non-profit, government and private sector employers are signed up to find out if YOU are the prospect they want. Look for details from the Career Services Office in the coming days. In the meantime, take note of the general Spring OCI timeline:

- Mid-December 2016 -- Spring OCI application period opens. Peruse employer listing and begin applying online.
- Mid-January 2017 -- First deadline for Spring OCI applications (aka "bids"). Some deadlines will be later than this. Check the individual employer and/or OCI session listings.
- January 23 through February 3, 2017 -- On campus interviews take place.

Spring OCI is an efficient and convenient way to land your next summer or post-bar gig. Don't miss it!

Questions: contact Kim Thomas (ksthomas@ucdavis.edu) in the Career Services Office.

Presidential Management Fellows Application to Open!

The federal Office of Personnel Management has announced the application period for the 2017 class of Presidential Management Fellows. The 2017 PMF application will launch 11-18-2016 and close 12-01-2016.

The "Become a PMF" section of the website has also been updated to reflect the 2017 PMF application dates, a timeline, an "Assessment Preparation Guide", and the application and assessment process.

Please check out the PMF website (www.pmf.gov) for details.

Questions? See Timothy Griffiths (tgriffiths@ucdavis.edu) in the Career Services Office.

Public Interest/Public Sector Day 2017

PI/PS Day is an annual career fair bringing together government and non-profit legal employers with law students from throughout Northern California. Every year, close to fifty King Hall students land their summer jobs through PI/PS Day.

This year's PI/PS Day will take place on Saturday, January 28, 2017 at UC Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco. Please mark your calendars!

Meanwhile, here is the timeline for the run-up to PI/PS Day:

- December 8, 2016 -- Students receive information and instructions about PI/PS Day from OneJustice by email and can begin perusing employers.
- January 1, 2017 -- The online application (aka "bidding) period for formal interviews starts.
- January 12, 2017 at noon -- The online application period closes.

See Timothy Griffiths (tgriffiths@ucdavis.edu) in the Career Services Office if you have questions.

Summer Judicial Externships Funding Information!!

Attention King Hall 1Ls & 2Ls!

For those of you considering applying for judicial externships this summer, 2017, Career Services wants to inform you of two ABA sponsored programs that provide limited funding for externs. We have had a number of students obtain funding through these programs in past summers. Please note that unlike other judicial externship applications where students apply to individual chambers, students that apply and are accepted in these programs will be placed in a chambers by the program administrators (considering location only).

Please go to the links below for more information:

(1) Judicial Intern Opportunity Program (JIOP):

http://www.americanbar.org/groups/litigation/initiatives/good_works/judicial_intern_opportunity_program.html

Application deadline: January 6, 2017

The American Bar Association Section of Litigation will begin accepting applications for its summer 2017 Judicial Intern Opportunity Program on November 7th for second-year law students. Applications for first-year law students will be accepted starting December 1st, in accordance with NALP guidelines. The program is a full-time (32 hours per week), six-week minimum, summer internship program open to all first-or second-year diverse law students.

Stipends are $2000 for the summer.

For those interested in JIOP, an ABA Section of Litigation "roundtable" is coming up on November 28, 2016 at 10am. It's a call-in conference call where attorneys speak and offer advice on different topics. This one is targeted to prospective JIOP law students and alumni. It's free, and the registration link is here: <https://form.jotform.com/63003835868158>.

(2) Business Law - Diversity Clerkship Program (for law students):

http://www.americanbar.org/groups/business_law/initiatives_awards/diversity.html

Application deadline: December 30, 2016

This summer program provides business law clerkship placements for nine qualified diverse first or second year law students. Participating clerks will receive support and mentoring in the business law field and exposure to business practices. Stipends are $6000 for the summer.

Please contact Career Services if you have questions or need additional information.

Summer Ethics Fellowship for Law Students & Recent Graduates

FASPE (Fellowships at Auschwitz for the Study of Professional Ethics) is now accepting applications for its 2017 Law program.

FASPE Law is a fully-funded, two-week summer program that uses the conduct of lawyers and judges in Nazi Germany as a launching point for an intensive study in contemporary legal ethics. FASPE Law is predicated upon the power of place. Fellows visit Auschwitz and other sites in Germany and Poland where they consider how to apply the lessons of history to the ethical challenges they will face in their careers.

In 2017, the program will take place from Sunday, May 21 to Friday, June 2. (Fellows are expected to arrive in Europe by Saturday, May 20.) All program costs are covered, including round-trip travel from New York to Europe, European travel, lodging, and food. FASPE Law Fellows travel and share some seminars with Fellows in the FASPE Business and Journalism programs.

FASPE Law is open to current JD and LLM students and those who received a JD or LLM between May 2016 and January 2017. It is designed to address ethical challenges in all fields of law, including the private sector, public interest organizations, and the government.

To learn more about FASPE and to apply, please visit: www.FASPE.info.

FASPE programs are non-denominational.
Candidates of all religious, ethnic, and cultural backgrounds are encouraged to apply.

FASPE staff is happy to talk with applicants concerned about potential conflicts with clerkships or bar preparation. For a list of previous Fellows, please visit <http://www.faspe.info/fellows.html>.

Completed applications are due by Thursday, January 12, 2017.

If you have any questions, please contact
Thorin R. Tritter, Executive Director of FASPE, ttritter@FASPE.info.

Career Services for Class of 2019

Class of 2019 - The Career Services Office is looking forward to working with you! Please review the information below about the upcoming individual meetings, 1L programing and Symplicity accounts/survey.

MANDATORY INDIVIDUAL MEETINGS

Beginning October 17, pursuant to ABA and NALP regulations, first year students will start having individual meeting with career advisors. You should already have received an email that shows the assigned date and time for your appointment.

If your appointment time does not work for you, please switch with a fellow student. Please contact that student directly by retrieving his/her email from the Intranet Directory:

- 1) Click here for the King Hall Intranet.
- 2) Select the "community" tab.
- 3) Choose "directory" from the left-side menu.
- 4) Enter the student's name in the search box.
- 5) Click on the student's name to view his/her profile, including an email address.

After you have switched your appointment, please send an email to careerservices@law.ucdavis.edu noting the change (your new date & time) and the name of the student with whom you switched.

MANDATORY SURVEY AND SYMPPLICITY ACCESS

First year students now have access to Symplicity, our web-based system that houses job, externship, and on-campus interview postings from law firms, government agencies and public interest organizations. Symplicity also provides announcements of upcoming events and access to career development resources. Each first year student has their own individual Symplicity account with a username and password. Career Services emailed 1Ls in early October with your Symplicity account information. On your first login to the database you will need to provide some profile information and fill out a short career survey.

Open Society Institute Announces New Public Interest Fellowship

The Soros Equality Fellowship

"We are pleased to announce the launch of a new initiative at the Open Society Foundations (OSF): the Soros Equality Fellowship. The Fellowship award includes $80,000 to $100,000 over the course of a 12 to 18 month period, accompanied by the requisite skill building, mentorship, and support to ensure a fluid leadership pipeline between early career promise and later-career expertise. This approach recognizes the power of individuals to use a variety of tools, from traditional advocacy to the arts, to impact change and uplift the mission and values of an open society.

The Fellowship is also intended for a much broader universe than the traditional civil rights activist and contemplates support for individuals spanning a variety of fields. Its main goals are to support an individual's advocacy, artistic expression, cultural impact, community empowerment, narrative change, public opinion efforts, or technology innovation. For example, it might attract a free-lance journalist to produce a year-long investigative series, a documentary filmmaker to produce a short film examining the intersections of race and gender, or a coder to create anti-racial profiling software.

We're inviting applicants to be bold, innovative, unprecedented, and audacious in their submissions. In the advocacy realm, the aim is to support outstanding individuals-including lawyers, advocates, grassroots organizers, researchers, and others with unique perspectives-to undertake efforts to combat racism and xenophobia at the local, state, and national levels. Projects may range from impact litigation to public education to coalition-building to grassroots mobilization to policy-driven research. The aim of the Fellowship is to incubate innovation, promote risk-taking, and develop new ways of thinking that challenge our existing assumptions. The proposed project should add considerable value to the racial justice field and inspire new approaches to address issues of disparity and discrimination.

How to Apply

You can find out more about the fellowship and the application process here. Letters of Inquiry are due by November 16, 2016 (11:59 p.m. EST) and may be submitted online here beginning October 28, 2016. Within two weeks of the November 16th deadline, OSF will invite approved applicants to submit full proposals.

For questions about the program and guidelines, submit an e-mail to equality.fellowships@opensocietyfoundations.org."

Deadline to Apply:

November 17, 2016

Position Description:

Under the direction of the information security consultant, work on a wide variety of legal and policy issues related to cyber security and technology procurement. Three projects that the fellow will work on include the drafting of a security and information policy that aligns with the policy recently adopted by the Office of the President. The fellow will also review contracts and advise the ISO on legal, regulatory, privacy and compliance risks across a number of different ISO functions and services. The Fellow will further serve as a liaison with campus counsel concerning legal matters. The fellow will also work with the ISO to establish data security relationships with department heads throughout the campus.

Everything You Need to Know About Government Honors Attorney Programs

For the Class of 2017:

Entry-level attorney positions in government (the federal government especially) can be tough to come by. One major exception: government honors programs. Each year, many government departments recruit and hire for a limited number of openings reserved for recent graduates. Competition for these programs is often intense, but grades are only one part of what the agencies usually look for. Commitment to working in government, subject-matter expertise and/or experience, and long-term potential are all important factors, so everyone interested is encouraged to apply.

Hiring for government honors positions varies by agency, but are frequently quite early. Some deadlines have passed already, but many others are yet to come. We strongly encourage students to peruse honors program listings ASAP, so you don't miss out on great opportunities! It's easy. You can find extensive listings for government honors programs (including federal, state and local), broken out for you by agency and by deadline, here: <http://arizonahandbooks.com/u/ucdlaw>. Please contact Career Services for the password.

Here are a few examples of upcoming opportunities:

Colorado Attorney General's Fellowship Program

DEADLINE TO APPLY: November 20, 2016

National Labor Relations Board Honors Attorney Program Board, General Counsel HQ and Regional Offices
<https://apps.nlrb.gov/honors>
DEADLINE TO APPLY: November 22, 2016

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Office of the General Counsel Honors Attorney Program:

For the Class of 2018:

Many government agencies offer summer "honors" internships to law students for their second summer, but hiring generally starts early: late summer and early fall of the preceding year. Some deadlines have passed, many are rolling (so apply ASAP!) and a few still remain. If you'd like to work for a federal, state or local government agency during summer 2017, we strongly encourage you to begin perusing listings and applying right away. You can find those listings broken out for you by deadline and agency, here: <http://arizonahandbooks.com/u/ucdlaw>. Please contact Career Services for the password.

Here are a few examples of upcoming deadlines for summer 2017 opportunities:

U.S. Department of Commerce, International Trade Law Clerk Program

DEADLINE: December 9, 2016

San Francisco City Attorney's Office Summer Internships
<http://www.sfcityattorney.org/aboutus/internships/>
DEADLINE: December 9, 2016

As always, please email or come see Timothy Griffiths (tgriffiths@ucdavis.edu) in the Career Services Office for more details or if you have questions!

AmeriCorps Legal Fellow Hiring Announcements

The Equal Justice Works Veterans Legal Corps is looking for legal fellows focused on serving low income and homeless veterans by filing VA disability claims, social security benefit petitions and appeals, and assisting in child custody cases for clients.

The VLC program is still recruiting for a legal Fellow to serve at the National Veterans Legal Services Program in Washington, DC. The position is posted here on their website. The Veteran Advocacy Project in New York, NY is also looking for a VLC fellow. The position is posted here on their website.

The Equal Justice Works Employment Opportunity Legal Corps is looking for legal fellows focused on removing barriers to employment such as criminal expungement and license reinstatements required for securing employment. The EOLC partner organization South Carolina Legal Services is recruiting for one fellow. Interested applicants should contact Jack Cohoon at jackcohoon@sclegal.org.

There are also open positions in the justiceAmeriCorps Program! If you know a student or recent graduate interested in becoming part of a class of 46 Equal Justice Works AmeriCorps Legal Fellows across the country providing legal representation to unaccompanied children facing deportation, visit www.joinjusticeamericorps.org for an up-to-date list of all open positions for the Class of 2016. Become part of this ground-breaking partnership between Equal Justice Works, the Corporation for National and Community Service, and the Department of Justice to serve children who would otherwise be forced to navigate our complex immigration system alone.
