JOHN PAUL STEVENS PUBLIC INTEREST FELLOWSHIPS

In partnership with the John Paul Stevens Public Interest Fellowship Foundation, UC Davis School of Law is pleased to announce that it will award two fellowships to currently enrolled first and second year students to undertake otherwise unpaid legal work at non-profit organizations or government agencies during summer 2016. The Stevens Fellowships recognize those students who demonstrate commitment to public service and potential for excellence throughout their legal careers. The amount of each Stevens Fellowship will be $5,000.

The fellowship enables each student to carry out clearly defined legal fieldwork, domestically or internationally, related to the student’s long-term career goals. The purpose of the fellowship is to provide students with an opportunity to contribute to the work of the host organization or agency while also gaining practical experience that advances the student’s career objectives. Applicants must plan to spend at least 10 weeks working with the host organization or agency to qualify for the fellowship.
