Exchange Programs with Foreign Institutions

The University of California, Davis School of Law has exchange agreements with five international universities. Students are offered the opportunity to study abroad for one semester at our exchange partner law schools.

List of Exchange Schools:

1. Comillas Pontifical University, Madrid, Spain
2. University of Copenhagen, Denmark
3. University College Dublin, Ireland
4. Jindal Global Law School, Sonapat, India
5. China University of Political Sciences and Law, China-EU School of Law, Beijing, China
6. Newcastle University, Newcastle, U.K.

Participation in the Program by Year

During the 2016-17 academic year, the University of California, Davis School of Law sent one student to University College Dublin, one student to the University of Copenhagen and two to the University of Lausanne (this program is now on hold until 2018/19).

Requirements for Student Performance and Grading Methods

Any student in the second or third year of JD studies, is in good academic standing, and is interested in any of the international programs is eligible to study abroad after having receiving an approval from the Associate Dean for International Programs. Students must apply as in their first year to go in their second year, and apply in their second year to go on their third year. The application is available here. Students will receive twelve units of academic credit at University of California, Davis School of Law for courses completed abroad in an exchange program. A passing grade is defined as "C" or higher. The credit transfers to University of California, Davis School of Law; the grades do not.

Accessibility for Individuals with Disabilities

Universidad Pontifical Comillas, Madrid, Spain

Buildings are required by Spanish law to be accessible for people with disabilities. In major cities, like Madrid, there have been greater efforts in the recent years to make public transportation, museums and other public buildings accessible to those with physical disabilities. More information about accessibility in Spain.

Comillas University offers a disability support program that strives to help students with disabilities to fully integrate into their new environment. For a complete list of resources and technical aids, please visit the Support Program for Students with Disabilities website.

University of Copenhagen, Copenhagen, Denmark

Discrimination against persons with disabilities in employment, education, and access to health care or other state services is prohibited by Danish law. Public transportation can generally accommodate persons with disabilities, but many buildings and outdoor sites are not as easily accessible for the disabled. More information on accessibility information can be found at Visit Denmark. If a student has limited mobility because of a disability, his/her should contact the Special Educational Support unit at sps@adm.ku.dk. If a student has a documented disability that prevents him/her from taking exams on equal terms with other students, he or she may apply for dispensation. More information can be found here.

University College of Dublin, Dublin, Ireland

It is required by national law for government buildings to be accessible to people with disabilities, and for public service providers to ensure their services are accessible to those with mobility, sensory, and/or cognitive impairments. Public parking and public transportation are generally accessible to people with disability. Click here to find more information about accessibility in Ireland. All students with a disability who attend University College Dublin have the opportunity to receive support from UCD Access and Lifelong Learning, including classroom and exam accommodations. For a more complete list of accommodations and for instructions on how to receive these benefits, please visit the UCD Access and Lifelong Learning website.

Jindal Global Law School, Sonipat, India

Despite legislation that all public buildings and transport be accessible for disabled people, accessibility remains limited. However, the Delhi metro system was designed to be accessible to those with physical disabilities. More information about accessibility in India can be found here. Jindal aims to make their courses accessible to all students. Students with known disability must register with their Disability Support Committee (DSC). The DSC will coordinate services needed such as academic mentors, specialized interventions, and accessibility in the classrooms for lectures, tutorials, and examinations. You can read more information in their handbook found here.

China University of Political Sciences and Law, China-EU School of Law, Beijing, China

Visitors with mobility disabilities may find challenges while travelling in Beijing. Although sidewalks and assistive technologies might be unreliable, public restrooms usually have at least one accessible toilet. More information can be found on the US State Travel website. The China University of Political Science and Law is not accessible to students with disabilities.

University of Newcastle, Newcastle, United Kingdom

In the United Kingdom, public service providers are required to ensure that their services are accessible to people with disabilities. It might be difficult getting around in the cities because sidewalks can be narrow and uneven. The Department of State lists other important observations here. At Newcastle University, all accommodations are accessible to all, and some rooms have been specially adapted with specialized equipment, wheelchair access, braille kitchen equipment, etc. When applying for housing, students can select the option of having an adapted room. More info is located on their website.

Program Cancellations

A program may be cancelled due to safety concerns, or other reasons that make continuation of a program in the planned location difficult. If for any reason an exchange program is canceled, students will be notified in advance, and the University of California, Davis School of Law will attempt to locate another foreign study program for placement of University of California, Davis School of Law students.

Students are responsible for all travel and living expenses. We recommend that students obtaining proper travel insurance, because cancellation of trip reservations due to unforeseen circumstances is the student's responsibility.

Housing Availability, Cost and Location

Universidad Pontifical Comillas, Madrid, Spain

Comillas University has partnered with Student Global Relocation \(SGR\), an organization dedicated to providing exchange students with accommodation services while in Madrid. SGR offers a General Information Service on accommodations in Madrid, free of charge, which includes access to general information on the city and information on available housing accommodations in the general vicinity of the university. SGR also provides exchange students with the opportunity to contract accommodation services through the organization, where SGR will conveniently arrange safe housing accommodations for the student.

University of Copenhagen, Copenhagen, Denmark

On-campus housing is not offered by the university, however, the UCPH Housing foundation assists incoming students in finding housing off-campus. Students can apply online 2-3 months prior to the semester starting here.

University College of Dublin, Dublin, Ireland

University College Dublin provides its students with accommodations for both on-campus and off-campus housing. On-campus prices for the 2017-2018 academic year are published on the UCD Residences Fees website. Prices for off-campus housing and an approximation of living costs in Ireland can be accessed here.

Jindal Global Law School, Sonapat, India

Jindal Global University provides on-campus housing accommodations for students who are interested. The University Hall of Residence consists of several blocks of buildings, with each block containing corridors, open spaces, and common rooms.

China University of Political Sciences and Law, China-EU School of Law, Beijing, China

Dormitories at the International Exchange Center at the Changping Campus are provided for international students. A standard room is shared by four students. Students also have the option of living in off-campus apartments. Estimated cost of living can be found here

University of Newcastle, Newcastle, United Kingdom

Newcastle University does not guarantee on-campus housing, but assists students with finding housing through an online application. On-campus housing varies in price from US$109.41/wk to US$170.35/wk. More information on housing can be found here

Refund Policies

As UC Davis School of Law students, exchange students are subject to the UC Davis School of Law refund policies. Refund policies are available here.

Travel Warnings and Travel Alerts

Students considering study abroad opportunities are advised to consult the U.S. State Department's information pages and travel alerts and warnings for the relevant country. Information pages for specific countries may be accessed here. Travel alerts and warnings may be accessed here. Please be aware that these State Department pages are updated on an ongoing basis. The International Programs office will contact students with updated travel warnings as applicable. We recommend that students sign up for travel alerts and warnings.
