Library Liaison Program

A reference librarian is assigned to each full-time law school faculty member to provide individualized assistance with research projects and services. Faculty members, including visiting faculty, may contact a reference librarian by email, phone, or in person. Email requests can be sent to lawlibref@ucdavis.edu.

Librarians are available to provide in-class presentations on course specific resources; for examples please see https://law.ucdavis.edu/library/research-guides/. Contact lawlibref@ucdavis.edu or your liaison librarian.

Faculty should contact lawlibref@ucdavis.edu for Lexis, Westlaw, or Bloomberg passwords, or help with setting up Course Reserves, sample exams, or other library services.

Acquisition & Delivery of Materials

Purchase Requests:
Faculty purchase requests should be directed to lawlibref@ucdavis.edu.

Document Delivery:
Faculty may request books, articles, reports, etc. through their liaison or by sending a request to: lawlibref@ucdavis.edu. Materials will be delivered in whatever format is available to fulfill the requested material.

ILL Requests:
Materials that are not available on campus can be borrowed elsewhere through Interlibrary Loan. For more detailed information about ILL please see https://www.cdlib.org/services/info_services/instruct/request/

You may direct ILL questions/requests to lawlibref@ucdavis.edu.

Borrowing Privileges:
Law faculty may borrow law library non-reserve materials for an entire school year. Materials are subject to recall.

Shields/Other Campus Libraries:
Faculty members may request items from other UC Davis libraries by contacting their liaison librarian or sending a request to lawlibref@ucdavis.edu. The Law Library can set up a proxy account which will allow the library staff to check items out in your name. RAs and TAs can also set up proxy accounts for faculty. Proxy forms are available at the Law Library’s Circulation Desk. N.B. Please allow time for Shields to process the proxy card form, which can take one to two days. Once the card has been processed only then can materials be checked out from other UC Davis libraries.

Shields Library assesses fines for recalled and overdue items without exception. You will also be charged replacement and billing fees for lost items. Shields will notify faculty members about recalls and overdue items directly by e-mail. For more detailed information about circulation policies and fines, please go to Shields webpage https://www.library.ucdavis.edu/library-policies/
Reference & Research Assistance

Faculty Research Support:
Reference librarians assist with short-term or in-depth research projects involving legal, interdisciplinary, or empirical research. Law Librarians are available to provide training to faculty in the use of all electronic resources. Contact lawlibref@ucdavis.edu for assistance.

RA Training and Support:
Reference librarians are available to meet with faculty and research assistants, individually or in groups, to advise on research projects. Librarians offer training for Summer Research Assistants on utilizing legal and non-legal sources. Sessions can be tailored to cover materials in faculty members’ particular areas of interest.

Course Support

Course Reserves:
The Law Library maintains an area behind the Circulation Desk for Course Reserves. Photocopied materials are supplied by Faculty Support Staff.

Course Reserve items should be furnished 24 hours in advance of notifying your class to allow for proper processing of the materials. Non-library materials will be returned at the end of the semester.

Exams:
The library maintains an online database of past exams/answers. Access to this database is password protected. Please furnish the library with electronic copies of exams that can be uploaded to the database. Answer memos while not required are greatly appreciated. E-mail exam files to lawlibref@ucdavis.edu.

Student Study Aids:
The library offers an ebook library of West Academic Study Aids, including nutshells, hornbooks, outlines, exam prep materials, and audio lectures. Covers most law school courses.

Course-Specific Research Guides/In Class Presentations:
Librarians will prepare a course-specific research guide for a particular class upon request, which is especially helpful to students who are preparing a research paper. Librarians will provide an in-class presentation to review resources and discuss course specific research tips and techniques. For examples please see https://law.ucdavis.edu/library/research-guides/.

Complimentary/Evaluation Copies:
Many legal publishers provide complimentary review copies to faculty. Contact Faculty Support to facilitate the ordering of review copies.
Databases

Lexis, Westlaw, and Bloomberg Law

Faculty have unlimited access to Lexis, Westlaw, and Bloomberg Law.

- Our Lexis subscription includes access to Law360; Westlaw includes Practical Law.
- These databases can be remotely accessed directly without going through the Law Library's webpage.
- For passwords and account activation information, contact a reference librarian or send a request to lawlibref@ucdavis.edu.

Law Library Databases

For a complete list and linked access, see the library’s webpage: https://libguides.law.ucdavis.edu/az.php.

Remote access is available through EZProxy links. Once a database/link is selected, it will ask for your Kerberos username and passphrase.

Highlights include:

- HeinOnline: HeinOnline includes full-text PDF files of articles in over 2,700 law and law-related journals. Also includes C.F.R., Federal Register, U.S. Statutes at Large, select federal legislative histories, U.S. Reports, English Reports, Legal Classics treatises, and more.

- Cheetah (product of Wolters Kluwer): Cheetah has online treatises which include Corporate Governance, Cyberlaw, Securities and other business law topics; as well as treatises on International Arbitration through KluwerArbitration.com.

- CEB OnLaw: CEB OnLaw gives electronic access to CEB practice titles, reporters and Action Guides. The database of California materials is fully searchable, with links to cases and statutes. Topics include business law, criminal law, labor/employment law, estate planning, family law, litigation, real property and torts.

CDL Databases (California Digital Library)

As a UC institution, the law school has access to CDL databases, including social science, political science, health, and biological databases, such as EconLit, JSTOR, PsychINFO, MEDLINE, Business Source Complete, and others.

- Remote Access: Remote access from off campus is available by downloading the VPN client from Shields library: https://www.library.ucdavis.edu/service/connect-from-off-campus/

- A-Z Journals: To locate a particular journal, A-Z Journals is a searchable database of journals, with links.

- Subject Guides: Shields subject librarians have created subject guides which list library resources by subject area.
Current Awareness Services

Set up email alerts to receive current awareness updates on specific topics of interest. For assistance in setting up alerts, contact your librarian liaison or send a request to lawlibref@ucdavis.edu.

Monitoring legal developments:

The Mabie Law Librarians monitor and report on a wide range of legal topics.

If there are resources or topics of interest be sure to let your librarian liaison know so that we may alert you about developments of interest.

In addition, let us know if you need assistance with email alerts in Lexis, Westlaw or Bloomberg. These email alerts are searches which run at regular intervals with the results delivered directly to your email.

The library also has access to premium news content such as Law360 and Bloomberg News. Librarians can assist you in setting up delivery of newsletters in your areas of interest.

Current Index to Legal Periodicals (CILP):

CILP is an index of current articles from over 650 law journals and law-related periodicals, organized by subject and journal title. It is available 4-6 weeks before other commercial legal periodical indexes.

For a list of law reviews and journals indexed by CILP, go to: http://lib.law.washington.edu/CILP/period.html.

CILP email

If you would like to be added to the CILP email distribution list, please contact lawlibref@ucdavis.edu.

SmartCILP

Emails can also be tailored to specific journal titles or subject areas, with direct links to the full-text of the article in Lexis, Westlaw, or HeinOnline. Please contact your liaison librarian to set up.

NY Times

UC Davis faculty, staff and students receive complimentary access to the NY Times. Activation instructions are available here: https://www.library.ucdavis.edu/news/get-free-access-to-the-new-york-times/

Archives & Faculty Display Cases

The library maintains a collection of writings by full-time faculty. Exhibits of recent faculty scholarship are located in display cases in the hallway outside the library lobby. Due to lack of space, faculty will be asked to choose a limited number of items for display.
