Instructions for Writing Projects

Please fill out ALL fields on both sides of this form. Your request will not be processed and you will not be enrolled unless all information has been filled in correctly. Once the form is complete, submit this form to the Registrar's Office for the Dean's approval. Once the project has been approved, the Registrar's Office will enroll you for the units.

Student Initials: _____	Grading Option: You must select either to have this project graded or non-graded. The graded option will result in a letter grade with grade points associated with it and will be calculated into your cumulative GPA. The non-graded option results in either a "Satisfactory" or "Unsatisfactory" grade which will have no bearing on your GPA. The grading option is your choice but the professor must approve your selection.
Student Initials: _____	Project being undertaken in connection with another course or seminar: Your request to receive additional credit for work you complete in a course or seminar will not alter the information for the course or seminar as listed on your student schedule. The unit value will remain the same for the course you are enrolled in. The additional credit will be added to your transcript as "Law 419" or "Law 499" and considered an Independent Writing Project.
Student Initials: _____	Unit/Page Length Guidelines: The approval of this request is dependent on several factors. The Dean will review your topic and evaluate the work required for completion of the written project. The page length applies to only the individually authored written work completed by the student. Footnotes and endnotes do not count toward meeting the page requirement in the case of Law 419 and, at the discretion of the professor, may not count toward meeting the page requirement of Law 499. The Dean has final approval on the terms and requirements for all Independent Research/Writing Projects.
Student Initials: _____	Students must have a minimum of 68 law classroom-based units of the total 88 units to graduate. These units include all courses that regularly occur within a classroom, including Law 410A/B – Appellate Advocacy, clinics, and practicums. The one-unit professional development externship seminar is a classroom-based course and counts toward the 68 units. Independent study units (Law 419 or 499), co-curricular units (law review, law journals, moot court and mock trial competitions, and LRW Tutor units), externship placement units, and non-law units taken in other UC Davis departments do not count towards the 68 units. You may take more than 20 non-law classroom-based units and exceed the 88 unit requirement to graduate as long as you have a minimum of 68 law classroom-based units.
